CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Jack has experience across all aspects of family law and brings his detailed and pragmatic approach to every case. Jack has uniquely built experience from the traditional barrister route of instructions from solicitors when working at the self-employed bar to building cases from the very first contact by running a solicitor firm. This gives Jack a comprehensive overview of all court cases that he is involved in. Jack's training as a family mediator and experience as a business owner gives him a unique skillset for his cases.

Jack was educated at the Crypt Grammar School in Gloucestershire before undertaking a History and Politics Degree at Cardiff University. Following the completion of this degree, Jack completed the Graduate Diploma in Law and then commenced his Bar Professional Training Course ("BPTC") where he scored Very Competent.

After the completion of his BPTC, Jack worked within a National Law Firm whilst at the same time running his own Legal Business that specialised in providing Employment Law Advice to numerous Companies throughout the Cotswolds.

Through this, Jack developed his commercial understanding and pragmatic approach to cases at this early stage of his career.

Since completing his pupillage in 2017, Jack has undertaken work both within a Solicitors Firm where he quickly became Head of the Family Law Department. Jack rose to the level of Partner and in this role he was heavily involved in the running of the Firm and its multiple offices.

In July 2022, Jack became a Family Law Mediator and has built this into his practice where he combines a high level of advice with an empathetic and understanding manner to allow appropriate resolutions being sculpted that work in the client's best interests.

Jack is able to accept instructions from members of the public under the Public Access Scheme.

Jack founded Henry Chambers in 2023 with the vision of providing his unique skillset and experience to all of his clients. Jack is driven by his desire for a client led approach where he looks to sensible and pragmatic solutions.
